WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE,
WASHINGTON.
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents Agent of the U. S. Patent Office in accordance with the 10th Sec. of Act of 37.

Having greatly [illegible] the Agency for the transmission of Models and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office, he can [illegible] but may be procured about six weeks earlier [illegible] he continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at his office inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of verbally explaining their invention and of consulting in respect to them matters in general of patent law [illegible] in order to obtain correct specifications and claims. The experience of sixteen years practice, an extensive collection of rare works, decisions &c. on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with records here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford to inventors desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which no other respect might be difficult of attainment.
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

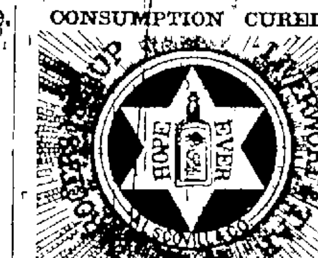

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few if any persons acting in that capacity who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

WHITE MOUNTAIN
STATION HOUSE,
Peabody River, Gorham, N. H.

THIS capacious and elegant establishment just erected expressly to accommodate travellers to the WHITE MOUNTAINS, will be opened on the first day of July next.

This House is situated on the line of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad in the valley of the Androscoggin River at the junction of the Peabody River and the Moose River with the Androscoggin, and at the immediate base of the White Mountain Range on the northeast side.

The confluence of these valleys at this point affords the most beautiful and imposing views of the Mountains in various directions and a more expeditious and easy access to the summit of Mt. WASHINGTON and other peaks than can can be obtained from any other route.

The House is but FOUR HOURS ride distant from Portland and [illegible] hours from Boston by daily railroad trains over the Eastern, Boston and Maine and Atlantic and St. Lawrence roads.

An excellent public highway available for Carriages [illegible] seven miles up the Valley of the Peabody river to the eastern base of Mount Washington. At this point a convenient public house is now erecting for the accommodation of persons ascending the mountain. The actual ascent [illegible] this side, can be accomplished with remarkable facility.

The valley of the Peabody River in its entire length passes along the whole eastern base of the range affording very near and uninterrupted views of all the great peaks, and of the remarkable ravines [illegible] between them. The valley of the Moose river affords equally near and most attractive views on the north side. Tourists and artists of the most competent taste have pronounced the scenery upon the northern and eastern sides of the Mountains to be much more wild, rugged and truly Alpine than any presented on the other sides. Pedestrians can make the ascent of Mount Washington from the Peabody river and return in from 6 to 8 hours.

To facilitate the ascent a safe and convenient bridle path is to be opened to the summit of Mount Washington. From the central position of this House at the confluence of great mountain valleys, the finest drives can be enjoyed in all directions upon good carriage roads affording new and imposing views of the Mountains at every turn. The numerous streams and lakes in the immediate vicinity abound in trout.

Six miles north of the House upon the line of the Railroad and accessible also by a carriage road are the celebrated BERLIN FALLS on the Androscoggin, the most remarkable cataract in New England. The completion of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence railroad to this station opens an entirely new, easy and cheap route to the Mountains on the north and east side—where the remarkable [illegible] NOTCH extending in its whole length along the whole eastern base of the Range affords a convenient access to the valley of the Saco and the celebrated CRAWFORD NOTCH. Tourists from all parts of the country will find this the most expeditious and agreeable route for visiting the Mountains.

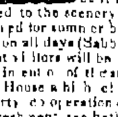

There is no Stage travel on the Route. Passengers land from the cars directly at the house. The Railroad from Boston and Portland every day will afford constant communication to and from the mountains. The Proprietors of the House will make arrangements with the Telegraph Companies and with Longley's Express by which despatches and other communications can be transmitted to and from all parts of the country for the convenience of visitors.

The House is large and commodious, constructed with great regard to architectural elegance and with all the conveniences of a first class Hotel. It has one hundred and eight sleeping rooms, all newly and thoroughly furnished throughout.

Families can be accommodated with suites of rooms.

The Proprietors having leased the House for a term of years will do all in their power to promote the comfort and pleasure of their guests and can promise a well supplied table and clean and well ventilated rooms at moderate charges. In connection with the House is a large LIVERY STABLE where good Horses and Carriages—and Saddle Horses will be furnished at all times.

Also good Bathing rooms for the convenience of visitors.

Cape Cottage Re-opened,

ON the first day of May this long celebrated MARINE VILLA, with the Stables, Sheds, Bowling Alleys &c. has been entirely rebuilt in a new style of architecture fitted to the scenery of the neighborhood, and re-opened for summer boarders and transient company on all days (Sabbaths excepted, when no transient visitors will be received on any account)—the intention of the subscriber being to establish for the House a high character so as to engage the hearty co-operation of all who may need repose, refreshment, sea bathing, pleasant drives and walks, boating, fishing, bowling &c. &c. Being built on the outer shore of Cape Elizabeth, all open to the sea with vessels passing and repassing all hours and early under the windows of the White Hills of New Hampshire in full view on one side, with the United States Forts, water batteries, harbor and shipping of Portland of [illegible] and the broad ocean on the other, CAPE COTTAGE has long been regarded as one of the most beautiful and picturesque watering places in the world. By the kind notice of Mr. George Combe, in a book of travels in the United States who spent a summer at this place it has acquired a high reputation abroad.

The location is all that can be required for resort to the invalid or persons for pleasure; and the subscriber will not fail in his endeavors to make it in all respects deserving of the public.

P. S. Being only three miles from Portland conveyance can be had at any time.

The Little Boy that Died.
BY JOSHUA D. ROBINSON.

I am all alone in my chamber now,
And the midnight hour is near,
And the faggot's crack and the clock's dull tick
Are the only sounds I hear;
And over my soul in its solitude
Sweet feelings of sadness glide,
For my heart and my eyes are full when I think
Of the little boy that died.

I went one night to my father's house—
Went home to the dear ones all,
And softly I opened the garden gate,
And softly the door of the hall.
My mother came out to meet her son—
She kissed me, and then she sighed,
And her head fell on my neck, and she wept
For the little boy that died.

And when I looked on his innocent face
As still and cold he lay,
And thought what a lovely child he had been
And how soon he must decay,
O Death, thou lovest the beautiful
In the woof of thy spindle wide,
For sparkled the eyes and the forehead was fair
Of the little boy that died.

Again I will go to my father's house—
Go home to the dear ones all,
And sadly I'll open the garden gate,
And sadly the door of the hall,
I shall meet my mother, but never more
With her darling by her side;
But she'll kiss me and sigh and weep again
For the little boy that died.

I shall miss him when the flowers come
In the garden where he played;
I shall miss him more by the fireside,
When the flowers have all decayed.
I shall see his toys and his empty chair
And the horse he used to ride,
And they will speak with a silent speech
Of the little boy that died.

I shall see his little sister again
With her playmates about the door,
And I'll watch the children in their sports
As I never did before,
And if in the group I see a child
That's dimpled and laughing eyed
I'll look to see if it may not be
The little boy that died.

We shall all go home to our Father's house—
To our Father's house in the skies,
Where the hope of our souls shall have no blight
And our love no broken ties,
We shall roam on the banks of the River of Peace
And bathe in its blissful tide;
And one of the joys of our Heaven shall be—
The little boy that died.

And therefore when I am sitting alone,
And the midnight hour is near,
When the faggot's crack and the clock's dull tick
Are the only sounds I hear;
Oh sweet o'er my soul in its solitude
Are the feelings of sadness that glide,
Though my heart and my eyes are full when I think
Of the little boy that died.

From the Maine Farmer.
Hints on the Culture of Winter Wheat.
DR. HOLMES:—From what I have seen and heard from different parts of our State, the present growth of winter wheat promises a fine crop, and with a strong hope and belief that much more may profitably be sown the present year, I wish to call the attention of farmers to the preparation of land, manure &c. for this crop. Not that I can offer anything new, but simply wishing to encourage every one to try the experiment, if it is to sow but one peck.

Five years ago my first bushel was sown which produced about twenty, and I think we have not had a less crop since. Last year we had 33 bushels from one, and some of the present growth stands five and two thirds feet high. But to the subject of soil, preparation, &c.

I find that any dry soil with sufficient slope of surface to drain off the surplus water from melting snow and heavy rains will produce good wheat with suitable cultivation. The last and present month is the proper time to plough in grass and clover if it be to green sward when well turned, rolled and harrowed to prevent the grass springing up in the interstices between the furrows. It may be made to bear good winter wheat, with the addition of a light top dressing of decomposed barnyard or stable manure or compost. Clover turned under, or if the grass must be saved for winter fodder plough in the stubble immediately after the hay is taken off and if the land is in condition to produce two or more tons of hay per acre, it will bear good wheat without manure. A small quantity of plaster will improve it.

The stubble of spring grain ploughed in with the application of a suitable top dressing, or without the top dressing if the land is sufficiently rich answers very well. Corn may be removed from the field in season to plough and sow to good advantage, and land will produce fifty bushels of corn to the acre will be in strength to bear large wheat without additional manure. White blue nose or other early varieties of potatoes may be harvested in season for wheat.

Swamp muck or sods and earth taken in making ditches in low land, and leached ashes or lime composted make excellent top-dressing. Add one or two loads of animal manure to every ten of the compost, and let it lie a few weeks before it is used. Shovelling it over once or twice improves it. It makes a very rich compost.

If muck cannot be had take the deposites from water courses or by the roadsides, or from pastures or wood lands, and mix all that may be found under the horse stable, cattle stalls, sheep sheds, &c. every [illegible] with these materials (taking care to make a new deposite of fresh earth or muck under said stalls for next year's use.) Add lime, ashes or plaster and by two shovelings over the heap it will be in fine order for use another season. Nothing is here offered but what I have tried successfully and it is with the hope that these desultory remarks may induce some persons that have experimented further than I have to give the results of their labors, as I believe we all, of every profession and vocation, agree that it is of vital importance to the State that we raise our own bread.

Clean seed is desirable, if we would have a clean crop. I regret to see so much rye, chess, &c. as in some fields the rye seems to be predominate. The first I sowed was seed imported from Poland. Among this were a little rye, chess, and a climbing plant which I called tares, that run over the tallest wheat, enclosing quite a handful in its embrace, and decorated with beautiful clusters of pink blossoms—a ready sign for its own destruction soon following. We have got pretty nearly rid of the rye, by pulling it up, as it heads higher—and some days before the wheat. Not so with the chess. It is lower than the wheat, with an oat-shaped head, and it is difficult to separate it. We spent much time, the first and second years on the chess, and could not get rid of it. After trying wind and water, and sifting in a powerful New York mill, which would nearly cleanse it, but not quite, it occurred to me to try the experiment of strong salt brine. This was effectual as the brine would raise all the light grain, such as oats, chess witch-grass seed &c. to the surface where it may be easily skimmed off.

We have growing both the standard varieties of winter wheat that are most in favor in this State viz the Poland, and Hloss Blue Stem alias Banner wheat. They grow side by side (a leaf furrow only intervening to keep them from mixing.) Both look well, and I cannot even risk a guess as to which will turn out best at harvest.

I have sown no other than the Poland until last year, supposing that it would be hardy from the fact of its being imported from a latitude north of us, and I find that it stands the winter on dry ground as well as English grass.

Good wheat may be grown, I have no doubt on pasture land, without manure, especially if it is ploughed early in summer. Ashes or plaster would unquestionably improve the growth.

My object is if possible to draw the attention of farmers to the subject of raising winter wheat, and thereby save a few of the tens of thousands that is annually sent out of this State for flour. M TABOR Excursion over the Atlantic and St Lawrence Railroad.

The following account we copy from the Boston Advertiser as its brevity is just now adapted to our columns. This excursion and the opening of this new and easy route to the White Mountains are generally attracting the public attention. The more this route is known the better it will be liked, and it will by and by become the favorite one for those wishing to visit this interesting Alpine region.

Mt Washington Station House, Gorham, N H, July 24th 1851

An excursion train of cars reached this place yesterday over the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad, having left Portland at a quarter past 7 o clock in the morning. The party consisted of the Directors of the road with their invited guests numbering in all about three hundred who were comfortably accommodated in convenient and elegant cars. The road is built upon a broad gauge than is usual in this country—the distance between the rails being five and a half feet, which is 9½ inches more than is usual—the cars can be very capacious and hold their allotted loads with more than ordinary comfort. The course of the railroad as it leaves Portland, is such as to give the traveller a very beautiful view of the water surrounding that city. It then proceeds through a pleasant country until it touches the valley of the Little Androscoggin River near which it continues occasionally allowing pretty little glimpses of that stream until the thriving town of Bethel is reached. From this point during the rest of the distance the railroad is built in the valley of the Androscoggin River, which it follows without crossing entirely on the southern side.

The scenery of this valley is magnificent.—One is almost surprised that it was ever deemed possible to build a railroad through it—much less that it should have been actually accomplished—when he sees the mountains towering above him on all sides and apparently shutting him up in a happy valley—the beautiful Androscoggin river forming a prominent part of the view—where it would seem the one might willingly resolve to pass the rest of his life did he not remember the pleasure he had anticipated enjoying forty miles off. But before he has sufficiently admired one view the cars turn a corner and hurry him off to another, till finally after a series of magnificent mountain scenery the tall summits of the White Hills appear in close proximity on the left, the bald peak of Mount Washington overtopping all the rest, and in a few minutes more the cars stop in front of a large and commodious hotel which suddenly intercepts the view of these magnificent natural objects.

The excursion train yesterday did not stop at the way stations, and brought its heavy load through directly to this place with remarkable promptitude and celerity in three hours and a quarter, the distance ninety one miles. The time appointed for the regular trains is four hours to which they adhere quite punctually.

Among the persons in the train were Josiah S Little the President of the Atlantic and St Lawrence Railroad Corporation and John A Poor well known for his efforts in behalf of the European and North American Railway who were very attentive in pointing out to the party the points of interest along the route. His Excellency Governor Hubbard of Maine, Hon John P Hale U S Senator from New Hampshire, Hon [illegible] Williams late U S Senator from Maine, Rev Dr Woods President of Bowdoin College, Hon Ashur Ware U S District Judge, George H Shepley, Esq late U S District Attorney for Me, Ex Governor Williams of New Hampshire, Hon Nathaniel Baker Speaker of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, Hon Ichabod Bartlett, Hon John O [illegible], Hon Rufus K Goodenow, Hon Robert K Goodenow, Hon Otis Baxter, Hon William W Wells, Hon Mr Johnson of Virginia editor of the Richmond Whig, Parker Sheridan, Esq, John Neal, Esq, Mr [illegible] of Compton Canada, Octavius Pickering Esq, Samuel Batchelder Esq, L H Derby Esq, S A Walker Esq and other gentlemen of note from Boston.

After the arrival of the train two or three hours were allowed for the visitors to walk about and view the points of interest and attraction about the House. They were then summoned to a dinner, which was amply provided in the new hotel. After the cloth was removed speeches were made and sentiments given by most of the gentlemen whose names I have mentioned above, many of which provoked considerable mirth. The occasion was a very interesting and pleasant one.

At five o'clock it was announced that the train was in readiness to take the party back to Portland, and the dinner was accordingly broken up. Those of the party who had not (like myself and many others) become so fascinated with their short view of the place as to have determined to stay a few days accordingly departed. All, I believe were highly delighted with the excursion.

The Hotel at this place is a large and new one and well furnished. It is however so over crowded just now as hardly to be capable of affording comfortable accommodations to the new comers who are continually thronging to it. Ever since the middle of last week each of the two daily trains from Portland has brought a load of eager visitors. The landlord, Mr Woodard, appears to exert himself to the utmost to accommodate his guests, and I doubt not that when all his arrangements shall have been completed, everybody will be satisfied.

☞ A report was recently published from Rio Janeiro, to the effect that the commander of the British ship Cormorant, had blown up the "American tow boat Sarah, on suspicion of her having furnished supplies to a schooner said to be engaged in the slave trade. Premiums are offered for the best specimens of various descriptions of works of art and cultivation, and among other things for the skill of apprentices, whose productions a separate list is to be kept, so that they may be competitors with one another, and not with experienced workmen. Articles will be received on the 27th, 29th and 30th days of September, and the Fair will open on the 1st of October. The anniversary address will be delivered on the 16th of October by Dr Charles T Jackson.

Sanctity of Private Letters. The following remarks upon this topic which we copy from the Philadelphia Bulletin receive our most hearty concurrence. We can imagine no act more contemptible than revealing the contents of a confidential letter.

'There have been of late years frequent instances of the violation of confidence, by the publication of letters never intended when written to meet the public eye. Politicians have found their nearest secret plans thus betrayed, private families have been torn asunder by revelations brought to light in this manner and reputations have been ruined in a similar way. In many cases letters harmless in intention but perhaps thoughtlessly composed have been perverted by the tongue of detraction till bitter slander has grown out of what was at most pardonable levity.

* * * * * *

There is but one rule to be observed as to the publication of private letters never to print them while the writers or even any of the parties referred to are alive. No man, who is the depository of private letters has a right to make them public for any purpose whatever except perhaps, the safety of the State or the discovery of a great criminal. To publish private letters or even reveal their contents either for the gratification of public curiosity or to gain personal ends, has long been considered dishonorable and we rejoice to see that a court of law has at last pronounced it illegal. It is a forward step in public morals.

Effect of Writers Signing their Names to Articles for Newspapers. The correspondent at Paris of the New York Commercial Advertiser makes the following remarks in a letter descriptive of French newspaper literature.—

The effect of the law requiring each newspaper writer to sign his articles has not been what was predicted by the press. No bad consequences has followed. Greater decency of tone has been introduced, and the political articles are prepared with still greater care. The necessity each journal is now under to publish the names of men of character and ability among its editors and the unwillingness of such men to expose themselves to danger by imprudent or rules to discredit by false ones, have certainly contributed to the elevation of the press. Several men of talent heretofore hid in the obscurity of the columns of a large journal have established their reputations on solid bases. There is more liberty of initiation allowed to individuals being personally responsible for their articles they enjoy the liberty of saying what they think in their own way, without regard to the political direction the proprietors wish to give to the journal.

Each of the principal papers has from twelve to fifteen editors among whom the different departments of labor are distributed. 'La Presse' employs as regular editors fifteen of the ablest writers of the capital. These meet at a certain hour of the day, in order to hear such articles as are considered important, and discuss the line of policy to be pursued in regard to subjects of interest.

Drowned While Fighting.

About noon on Friday, two Irishmen named Miles McFadden and —— Hennessey, while at work on the deck of a vessel lying at the Fitchburg Railroad wharf, Charlestown, got into a quarrel and fell to blows. During the affray both fell overboard into the water but this mishap did not prevent them from continuing the fight as each struck several blows while in water. The quarrel was only ended when both sank and were drowned. The bodies were recovered and an inquest held by coroner Bumner, the jury returning a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Hennessey resided in Charlestown, and McFadden in East Boston. The latter has only been in this country about three months, and leaves a wife.—[Boston Advertiser

Logs. The price of logs has now touched a point higher than has been known for many years. We learn that as much as 37s 6d has been obtained for prime lots. As might have been expected a summer logging is now going on to an unprecedented extent. The woods from the Bay of Fundy to the Grand Falls, ring with the axe of the lumberer; and, as the late rains have caused all the streams to rise nearly to the level of the ordinary spring freshets such a quantity will probably be got out as will bring the supply and demand more to an equality.—[St. John Courier

OFFICIAL.

(New Series,—No 66)

TO THE COLLECTORS AND OTHER OFFICERS OF THE CUSTOMS.

Treasury Department, July 16 1851

The existing Revenue Laws of the United States provide that the value of all foreign merchandise imported into the United States shall be verified by the owner thereof. Where the goods are owned by parties residing in the United States, this oath is taken before the Collector at the time of entry, and where they wholly belong to a person or persons not residing at the time in the United States, the invoice is required to be verified by the oath of the owner, to be administered by a Consul or Commercial Agent of the United States or, by some public officer duly authorized to administer oaths in the country where the goods are purchased. In the latter case the certificate of the public officer who administered the oath must be authenticated by a Consul or Commercial Agent of the United States in the port from which the goods are imported. If there be no Consul or Commercial Agent of the United States in the country from whence the goods may be imported the authentication of the invoices may be executed by a Consul of a nation at the time in amity with the United States, if there be any such residing there. If there be no such Consul then the authentication may be made by two respectable merchants residing at the port from whence the goods are imported.

In addition to the fact that so great a number of the invoices of goods shipped to the United States by or for account of non resident merchants traders and manufacturers, come forward unaccompanied by the needful consular certificates, required by law the Department has positive information which leads to the belief that this is a regular system with many of the foreign owners, the better to enable them to have their goods entered and their duties assessed on an undervalued invoice which is sworn to by their agents in the United States, who are really ignorant of the true cost. The parties thus also avoid the risk which would follow, from allowing the reduced value at which the goods may be invoiced to be known to the Consul at the port of shipment, who in most cases would at once see the fraud, and whose duty it would be to put on his guard, the Collector at the port of destination.

Heretofore, all the those cases where the consular certificate has been accidentally or designedly omitted with the invoices for foreign account have been referred to the Department, which has as a matter of course admitted them to entry, upon giving the usual bond for the production of said certificate within a certain limited period according to the distance of the port of shipment. The Department has ascertained that in some of the principal ports of entry these bonds have been considered too much as a mere form, and except where the parties have voluntarily produced the certificates at those ports no demand has been made upon them, and the bonds remain on file uncancelled. This has of course induced those foreign owners who have habitually sent forward their goods without the needful certificates to continue the practice until the evil has become so general and extensive as to render it necessary to adopt vigorous measures to check and destroy it.

In the circular from this Department, of 7th April 1851, to American Consuls and Commercial Agents which has been generally published in the public journals of the United States, and which the Consuls abroad were instructed to make public at the places of their respective residences notice was given of the intended change of action by the Department on this subject after a reasonable delay. The time for this change the Department thinks, has now arrived and the Collectors are therefore requested and instructed to observe and enforce the following rules on the subject.

In all future importations of merchandise for account of non resident owners, where the invoices are not accompanied by the consular certificates required by law, the goods must be sent to the public stores, there to remain at the expense and risk of the owners until the certificate shall be produced, and no bonds will be taken as heretofore, for the production of such certificates.

When however, any such goods are of a perishable nature or what are called fancy or seasonable goods or where the sale would be materially injured by delay, the Department, unless there is obvious evidence of intended fraud on a report of the facts by the importer certified by the Collector will admit them to entry on such terms as the facts and circumstances of each case respectively, may render necessary and proper.

Some of the foreign shippers and manufacturers are in the habit of sending a consular certificate attached to a general invoice of goods, part of which only come in the vessel with the certificate and the balance being intended for future shipment by a subsequent vessel or vessels and in many instances as the Department is advised, such goods are not even manufactured at the time the invoice is dated and the certificate granted. In future no such certificate is to be respected, except for the goods which actually accompany it, and any other portion of the invoice which may come by other or subsequent vessels will be treated as being without consular certificates unless there be a distinct and separate one for the goods by each vessel.

In all cases where bonds heretofore given for the production of consular certificates remain uncancelled and the time for producing them has expired the parties are to be notified in writing to pay the amount of such uncancelled bonds, and, on a failure to do so within 30 days after such notice, they will be immediately put into suit.

Should there be any of these cases where the Collector thinks, from peculiar circumstances, further time should be granted for the production of the certificate the Department on a presentation of the facts of the case, will take such cases into consideration, and, if the circumstances will warrant it will grant the additional time required under such terms and conditions as it may think advisable and just to exact.

You will use every diligence to prevent the entry of merchandise as the property of residents where it may be for foreign account, and whenever you may detect a deception or fraud in entering goods without the oath of the real owners you will enforce the utmost penalty of the law against the offending parties.

The Consuls and Commercial Agents will be requested hereafter either to make their certificate upon the invoice itself, or to give such details where it is attached as a separate document, as to the names of the shippers, consignees, vessels and captains, the nature of the merchandise, and the total amount, as will fully identify the invoice annexed, instead of giving, as heretofore, their certificates in such general terms as to admit of the deception,—which the Department is informed has been practised, of substituting another invoice in place of the one for which the certificate was originally issued.

By the habit which has so generally prevailed, of virtually dispensing with the oath of the non resident owners of foreign merchandise, these latter have possessed an undue advantage over the resident importers of the United States. A just regard for the rights and interests of the latter, as well as for the more faithful collection of the revenue, has governed the action of the Department in establishing the rules laid down in the present circular.

The department will embrace the occasion to observe, that bonds which are taken in connection with the business of the customs, of a similar nature to those for the consular certificates, are too frequently considered by the parties executing them as mere matters of form; but it is the intention of the Department hereafter to make them realities, in obedience to the law, and you are in consequence, requested and instructed to enforce the penalty of any such bonds as they may become due and forfeited.

MASSASOIT HOUSE,

ON THE BORDERS OF PUSHAW LAKE.

JOHN H. HASEY

HAS erected a new, large and convenient Hotel on the borders of PUSHAW LAKE, one of the most desirable watering places in the State of Maine, for the accommodation of travellers, parties of pleasure, invalids, and permanent boarders. The house has been built with special reference to this business, contains a large hall, and is thoroughly finished and amply furnished.

The distance from the City Hall of Bangor is seven miles over a good road. The house commands a splendid view of Pushaw Lake, with its beautiful green islands and its shores studded with the dark forest.

Safe and swift sailboats for the accommodation of large parties, with experienced boatmen, are connected with the house and are furnished with all necessary fishing apparatus for taking the White Perch, Pickerel, and other lake fish, which are abundant in the waters of the Lake.

Every attention will be paid to the wants, wishes and comfort of visitors and parties may be assured of receiving full accommodations at any hour.

There are very few pleasure resorts from the city of Bangor and it is the determination of the Proprietor of the Massasoit House, that the excellence of his accommodations and the variety of his means of promoting the pleasures and diversions of his guests shall compensate for variety elsewhere.
JOHN H. HASEY.

Among the Great Collection, which is the largest ever exhibited in America, is

THE RHINOCEROS,

Or, THE UNICORN OF HOLY WRIT.

The first and the only one in America since 1835. The great difficulty in capturing this huge and fierce creature, together with the almost impossibility of keeping him alive in a climate so uncongenial to his habits and constitution, renders the Exhibition of a living Rhinoceros the greatest Curiosity in the Animal World. Also, Specimens of the

HIPPOPOTAMUS,

The only one ever Exhibited in America.

TWELVE LIONS,

Of the FINEST SPECIMENS from different countries, some of which were presented to the renowned HERR DRIESBACH, by Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, in his recent tour through Europe.

THE MONSTER ELEPHANT
COLUMBUS,

The largest in America, weighing 10,730 Pounds. Also, the

Beautiful Elephant Tippoo Sultan,

Which has caused such a great sensation all over Europe, will go through a variety of performances, such as Waltzing, Balancing, Rowing the Bell, Creeping on his Fore-legs, Walking over his keeper, picking him up, Drawing a Cork from a Bottle

HERR DRIESBACH,

The most Celebrated of all Animal Performers, will give an exhibition in

A Den of Wild Animals.

His performances with the Terrible Group of Lions, Tigers, Leopards, Cougars, PANTHERS, &c.

The same as performed by him in all the principal Cities of Europe with such great renown.

Hideralgo, the Lion Tamer,

will give a performance in a

DEN OF WILD ANIMALS,

separate, and altogether different from Herr Driesbach's making two grand Animal Performances in the same Exhibition.

Many other Performances will be given in the course of the Exhibition, such as PONIES, MONKEYS, &c.

A full description of the Animals, which the great experience, enterprise, and resources of the Proprietors have enabled them to bring together in one LARGE and SPLENDID COLLECTION, will be found in the Bills, at the Principal Hotels, previous to the arrival of the Company.

It holds three times as much as other miscalled hair restoratives and is more effectual.

THE PILES!

A CURE FOR LIFE SECURED.

DR. UPHAM'S INTERNAL REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF PILES.

THE VEGETABLE PILE ELECTUARY, invented by Dr. A. Upham, a distinguished physician of New York city, is the only really successful remedy for that distressing and dangerous complaint, the Piles, ever offered to the American public.

The Electuary contains no Mineral Medicine, no Aloes, Colocynth, Gamboge, or other powerful and irritating purgative. No fear of taking cold while under its influence, no change of diet necessary. If taken according to directions a cure for life is guaranteed.

Among the certificates of hundreds that have already been received of the efficacy of Dr. Upham's Electuary.

New York, August 25, 1846.

Messrs. Wyatt & Ketchum—Gents. For several years past I have been troubled with piles, a very costive state of the bowels, indigestion and weakness of the system. Both my complaint and the [illegible] disable me from business and [illegible] I had of physicians, patent medicines, &c. until this Spring I never used any medicine or applied to a physician for relief. The Piles being then so severe that I allowed a serious [illegible] to be performed without any benefit. Determined after this to try no more means, I read an advertisement of a cure guaranteed by the use of Dr. Upham's Electuary. I purchased three boxes at yours [illegible] and from the use of which I found myself entirely cured of the Piles, and my health much improved. I remain, sir, yours much obliged [illegible]

The writer of the above, from motives of delicacy declines having his name used, but authorizes us to refer to him or show the original certificate to those who may doubt its authenticity.

Another certificate relating to the efficacy of Dr. Upham's Electuary.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9, 1846.

Dr. Upham—Dear Sir: About five years ago I was afflicted with what was called Chronic Dysentery. I have suffered with it ever since and physicians have told me that my liver was affected and that my bowels were ulcerated, for blood and mucus attended with a peculiar putrid smell were the frequent discharges. A short time since I made a visit to Massachusetts in hopes of benefit from a change of air but suffered more severely than ever before. While there a physician offered to cure me for $40, in three months.— Happily in the midst of intense pain, occasionally relieved by laudanum, I saw in a wrapper of your Electuary a perfect description of my complaint together with many certificates of cures. This gave me great confidence in the medicine and I purchased a box, and nine doses of which has apparently cured me, and am prepared to say every thing in its favor or render any service I can to humanity by subscribing to its merits.

Respectfully yours, BENJAMIN PERCIVAL, No. 89 South Sixth St.

Mr. Wm. Bogle—Sir: The preparation invented by you for the hair has been extensively used in my family and they give it the decided preference over all other compositions of the kind. Another Scientific Wonder!

DR J. S. HOUGHTON'S Great Dyspepsia Curer!

THE TRUE

DIGESTIVE FLUID,

OR

Gastric Juice,

PREPARED from RENNET, or the fourth STOMACH OF THE OX, after directions of BARON LIEBIG, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

This is a Great Natural Remedy for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, curing after Nature's own Method by Nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice. PEPSIN is the chief element or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an ARTIFICIAL DIGESTIVE FLUID precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.— By the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of Indigestion and Dyspepsia are removed just as they would be by a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline and Dyspeptic Consumption supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

BARON LIEBIG, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid analagous to the Gastric Juice may be prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Ox, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs will be softened, changed and digested just in the manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Half a teaspoonful of pure Pepsin infused in water, will digest or dissolve Five Pounds of Beef in about two hours out of the stomach.

Dr. HOUGHTON'S PEPSIN is sold by nearly all the dealers in fine drugs and Popular Medicines throughout the United States. It is prepared in Powder and in Fluid form—and in Prescription vials for the use of Physicians.

PRIVATE CIRCULARS, for the use of Physicians may be obtained of Dr. Houghton or his Agents describing the whole process of preparation, and giving the authorities upon which the claims of this new remedy are based. As it is not a secret remedy, no objection can be raised against its use by Physicians in respectable standing and regular practice.

Price, in Fluid form ONE DOLLAR per bottle.

PEPSIN IN POWDER,

Sent by Mail, free of postage.

For convenience of sending to all parts of the country, the DIGESTIVE MATTER OF THE PEPSIN is put up in the form of Powder, with directions to be dissolved in water by the patient. These Powders contain just the same matter as the bottles, and will be sent by mail, free of postage, for ONE DOLLAR sent (post paid) to Dr. J. S. HOUGHTON, Philadelphia, Pa.

☞ OBSERVE THIS!—Every bottle of the genuine PEPSIN bears the written signature of J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., sole proprietor, Philadelphia, Pa.
